

PFAS Declaration

Dekodur International GmbH & Co. KG

Status: March 21, 2025

Dekodur International GmbH & Co. KG hereby declares that, to the best of our current knowledge and based on the written confirmations of our suppliers, the materials we use to manufacture our HPL boards do not contain any intentionally added per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS).

One exception is certain aluminum foils used in our products, which contain PTFE compounds. PTFE (polytetrafluoroethylene) is classified as a PFAS substance for regulatory purposes and, according to current knowledge, is not hazardous to health.

This declaration is based on:

- formal, written confirmations from all our material suppliers, dated between January 2025 and March 2025
- the definition of PFAS according to the current regulatory framework
- the usual declaration thresholds (usually 0.1% by weight) for chemical substances
- current information from our suppliers on the material composition

Restrictions:

- This declaration refers exclusively to intentionally added PFAS substances in our production process and in the materials we use, with the exception of aluminum foils containing PTFE.
- As noted in some supplier declarations, unintentional trace impurities below the usual declaration thresholds due to environmental influences or complex supply chains cannot be technically ruled out completely.
- Some specialized materials may contain fluorine-containing polymers that are permitted under current regulation, are not restricted under REACH or other regulations and are not regulated PFAS compounds.
- For the PTFE-containing components in our products, we have been informed by our suppliers of efforts to develop PFAS-free alternatives. We are following this development and will adjust our material sourcing accordingly as soon as PFAS-free alternatives are available.
- This declaration is based on the current status of the information available to us and the current regulatory environment. An update may be necessary in the event of changes in regulation or the definition of PFAS substances.

Dekodur International GmbH & Co. KG is committed to responsible handling of chemicals and continuous improvement of the environmental compatibility of our products. We monitor regulatory developments in the area of PFAS and will adapt our processes and material selection accordingly should the requirements change.

This declaration replaces all previous declarations on this subject and is valid for 12 months from the date of issue, provided there are no significant changes in production processes, material compositions or legal requirements.
